FULL DAY TOUR - CONTEMPORARY PORTO

Departure from Catholic University - 09 August

Porto city historic city centre is UNESCO World Heritage (1996), and is also a living organism where old and contemporary architecture co-exist. For instance, the city's main avenue, Aliados Avenue, opened in 1919 by Barry Parker, has been renovated in 2006 by Álvaro Siza and Souto Moura, (both Pritzker Prizes), taking advantage of the opportunity created by the implementation of Porto's subway. We will see the House of the 24, designed by Fernando Távora and built in 2002, on the foundations of the former House of Representatives of the XV century. We'll see the greatest view of Porto from Gaia, the opposite city, along the trip in Gaia Rope-way teleferic. The Museum of Contemporary Art of Serralves designed by Siza and Casa da Música designed by Rem Koolhaas will complete the visit to contemporary Porto.

14h00pm to 17h30pm

The trip to Aveiro will take about 45 minutes drive. Known as the "Venice of Portugal" and is considered one of the most attractive destinations in the country. It is a mix of traditional and Art Nouveau with its quiet urban - an ideal place for your vacation. It is located nearby of the Atlantic Ocean.

Aveiro is also well known by the typical sweets of egg yolk and the croissants. What we suggest you is a walking tour in the centre of Aveiro including the visit to the Museum of Contemporary Art. You will learn how to do the sweets continuing with a cruise in a typical Moliceiro. Back to Porto
